

Mike,

At our last meeting, you requested that we come up with a list of items that are expenses incurred to support the children during my parenting time. Below are my notes for that discussion.

This is a list of items that Non-Custodial parents have to pay (at both homes) for if they are active in their child's lives

Bicycles / Scooters

Inclement Weather Clothing

Swimwear

Sports Equipment

Hygiene Items - Toothpaste, Shampoo, Lotions, Allergy Medicines, Sunscreen, etc

Infant Necessities: Diapers, Wipes, Formula, HyChair, Crib, Toddler Bed, etc

Beds

Housing with Appropriate bedrooms

Toys / Entertainment

Groceries

Appropriate Vehicle for transportation

Internet - to complete homework

Water / Heating / Cooling

These items are needed regardless if the kids are here 15 days a month or 2 days a month.

Special Interests- If the custodial parent has a Special Interest, child support money can be used for it, but if the non-custodial parent has a Special Interest, they have to pay for it on their own.

Special Interest Items - Duck Hunting

Shotgun

Shells

Waders

Clothing

License Fees

Hunter Safety Class

Special Interest Items - Ice Fishing
Equipment
Cold Weather Clothing
License Fees

Counseling Services - when Custodial Parent doesn't agree

Thanks,

Tom